J. W. Priest, Third St., Marysville, Ohio, says: "I was in awful condition from kidney trouble, having run down in weight from 220 to 150 pounds. ERUPTION COVERED BODY

"Three years ago this winter I had a breaking out that covered my whole body. It itched so it seemed as if I should go crazy. It first came out in little pimples on my back and spread till it covered my whole body and limbs down to my knees, also my arms down to my elbows. Where I scratched it made sores, and the terrible itching and burning kept me from sleeping. I tried several remedies all to no purpose. Then I concluded to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, also the Resolvent, for about four months, and they completely cured me of eczema. I have had no return of the disease since. I never had a good night's rest after the skin eruption first broke out till I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had only used them a few days before I could see they were beginning to heal, and the terrible itching was gone."

"Those that lived in the house at the time—know how I suffered, and how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me. I never take a bath without using the Cuticura Soap, and I do not believe there are better remedies for any skin disease than the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Miss Sarah Calkins, Waukegan, Ill., Mar. 16, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. L, Boston.

Might Not Get the Children.
A young lady of ten was discussing her future with her mother.
"Yes, mommie," she said, "I shall get married and I shall have four children."

"That will be nice!" commented the mother.
"No!" continued the young lady after a minute or two of deep thought. "Maybe I won't have four children. I might marry a bachelor!"—Saturday Evening Post.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR MAY 12.

THE LAW OF LOVE.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 6:27-38; Rom. 13:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—Rom. 13:19.

Jesus set forth while seated upon the mountain delivering what is usually termed as the Sermon on the Mount, those principles the working out of which have changed the history of mankind. Last week and the week before there, were presented principles that in their application are the very opposite to the natural desires of the human heart. In this lesson we have the summary, the conclusion of the whole matter, and next we shall study some of the applications of these new principles.

"I say unto all you who hear." Not all who listened that day, even among the disciples, really heard what Jesus was saying. As for illustration these truths did not grip the heart and life of Judas. So it is today, having ears to hear they hear not. Jesus commands those having ears to hear but cautions them to take heed what we hear and adds that to us who do hear, shall yet more be given. (Mk. 4:24).

Things It Teaches and Why.

"Love your enemies" is not alone a teaching of the Christian faith. It may be found under the old Jewish dispensation and even among heathen philosophers but in each of these instances it does not convey the impression nor carry with it the command it does when Jesus utters these words. The life of Jesus is a wonderful exemplification of the truth he is seeking to teach. In his case the words are a command and the execution of that command he promises, later, to make possible to all of his followers by the aid of the Holy Spirit. We are to pay for curses with blessings, and for insults by prayers, and the man who so conducts his life shall be happy. "Oh," but someone exclaims, "have I not certain inalienable rights? Does not the other fellow's liberty end where my nose begins?" Certainly we have rights but the right to suffer for Christ's sake is far greater than our right to defend ourselves. God will attend to our rights provided we obey his word. True those who ask may be unworthy, but God is kind to the unworthy as well as to those who are worthy. It is noticeable that Jesus does not tell us to give to every one who asks that particular thing that is asked for; God does not thus answer our petitions. Ofttimes requests come the literal granting of which we know would be detrimental to the best interests of the petitioner or perhaps work hardship upon those dependent upon us. For illustration, the granting of whisky to a drinking man; giving money to a street beggar when bread is needed by the children or others whom God has intrusted to our care. Many foolish and fanciful interpretations and applications have been made of these words.

Application is Definite.
The simple application of the Golden Rule is however a very definite, positive and comprehensive matter, vastly different from the negative proposition of Confucius.

"As ye would, so do ye." Do you want friends? Be friendly. Do you want others to sell goods to you? You must buy of them. Do you wish to have others talk about you at your backs? Then you begin at once to talk about others at their backs. Love expressed merely for those who love us will soon dry up, the circle constantly growing smaller. That is simply refined selfishness. See verses 32 to 34. It is in these opposite traits we are to set the distinguishing marks of a Christian.

We should recall the contrasts Jesus gave in this whole passage. The rich and the poor, the woes and the joys, the well spoken of and those of his kingdom who shall be hated. To love those who love us not, to do good to those who despitefully use us, to lend not expecting any return.

Who is sufficient for these things? Those who are in deed and in truth citizens of this new kingdom. Paul sets not only a strong emphasis upon the teaching of Jesus, but he expressly refers to the Mosaic commandments, enumerating four of them, and adds that if these do not include the others—"If there be any other commandment"—it can be kept when a man obeys this obligation to love his neighbor. Indeed, how can we say we love God, whom we have not seen if we love not our brothers, whom we have seen?

VETERANS' TRAIN IS WRECKED

ELEVEN PERSONS KILLED ON WAY TO REUNION.

Train, Loaded With Old Confederate Soldiers Plunges Over Embankment.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—Bearing war scarred Confederate veterans bound to their annual reunion at Macon, Ga., a special train plunged over an embankment near Eastabuchie, Miss., killing 11 persons and injuring 40. Only four of the dead have been identified. The others are two babies and three others in the wreckage, believed to be veterans. The identified dead whose bodies were brought to Hattiesburg were:

Mrs. J. L. Cameron, Henderson, Tex. J. S. Downing, Atlanta, Ga.

W. A. Wood, Meridian, Miss., engineer.

Mrs. Charles Holmes, Big Springs, Tex.

The train was known as the "Van Zandt special" running from Dallas to Macon and was on the tracks of the New Orleans & Northeastern railroad when the cash came. The locomotive was nearing a trestle when the engine seemed to lurch into the air and plunge down the embankment. It was followed by a baggage car, a day coach and three tourist sleepers.

The three remaining tourist sleepers were turned into a hospital and morgue. A special relief train was rushed from Hattiesburg, arriving within an hour. Already the nurses and doctors aboard found the veterans aiding their comrades as best they could under the circumstances. Many of the less seriously injured old men went to work with remarkable courage.

Mr. Jordan says there will be no flies where there is no filth, and with no flies there will be less disease.
